Gas Bottle Refills

We recently had a visit from the Queensland Department of Mines and Energy (who, among other things, regulate the sale of LPG). There is currently a crack-down across Queensland on out of date stamped gas bottles. Gas bottles have a 10 year date stamp from time of manufacture. Before bringing in your bottle for refilling please check the date stamped on the bottle to ensure that it has not expired. Unfortunately we are not able to refill expired bottles, the penalty is currently $37,500. New gas bottles are available from the hardware and service station at very competitive prices.

Coming Soon

We will be introducing our own swap and go gas facility in time for Easter—no more waiting for the bottle to fill! See the next newsletter for more details.

A note from Thommo

Hey Troops ~ The rain was great, but what a pity there was so much on the mountain.

The damage along the flats was hard to believe, I just hope people can get some assistance, which is truly needed. The Government has got to get out here and see just how much damage there is.

Oats grading has started. If you need oats graded give us a ring and we will do them in bulk, bulk bags or 40kg bags.

Pasture Seed is available for all conditions and varieties of stock ~ horses, cattle. We will mix to your liking or we can recommend a brew.
